Dear Class of 2021:

In this most extraordinary year, I offer my deep admiration, gratitude and sincere congratulations to a most extraordinary class of graduates.

As numerous forces upended our world, you held your dreams steadily in sight and persisted in your studies through challenges none of us could have imagined. Unlike any other CSU graduating class past or future, you have by necessity developed and demonstrated skills—far beyond your academic work—that will ensure your continued success: resilience, flexibility, resourcefulness, patience and tenacity. While so much and so many have been lost, your resolve has shone as a symbol of hope and optimism—and you should be proud.

On behalf of the entire California State University community, I am certainly proud to present you to the world as our newest class of CSU alumni, joining an impressive international network now nearly 4 million strong. Together, you will power the recovery of our state and nation, educate our next generation, fight for social justice, and create new and sustainable opportunities for health, security and prosperity for us all. I encourage you to stay connected to your campus and your peers, to look for opportunities to give back, and to support the future generations who will follow in your footsteps.

And as our many months of physical separation begin to come to a close, I hope you will hold in your hearts all of those who have supported you from afar. The faculty who broadened and deepened your understanding of the world. The counselors, advisors, librarians, tutors, coaches, facilities and support staff who created a nurturing environment of care and growth. Your family and friends, whose belief in you never wavered.

All of these people have been forever impressed by your spirit, determination and accomplishments. Please count me among them—and I know you will continue to make us proud.

Again, congratulations to the class of 2021!

Sincerely,

Joseph I. Castro
Chancellor
Dear Graduate:

On behalf of the San Diego State University community, congratulations on your graduation!

I wish to acknowledge the dedication, resilience, and support of all those who helped you get here: your family members, friends, your SDSU faculty and staff—all of whom played an important role to support or mentor you during your degree. Just as important, the personal dedication, courage, and tenacity you have demonstrated this past year exemplify the critical skills California and the world needs to move us to a brighter future.

Your graduation marks not just a moment of celebration; it honors the years of learning and growth which precedes it. At the same time, our graduation ceremony is referred to as a commencement—the point at which something begins, not where it ends.

This month, in more ways than one, marks a new beginning for you. You are now a graduate. You are now formally recognized for your years of study and expertise in a field aligned with your career aspirations. You are also now part of San Diego State University’s proud alumni tradition as the Class of 2021. This is an exceptional family to join—a community of nearly 476,000 living alumni throughout the United States and abroad—known for leading and serving our region and our world. SDSU alumni create and grow businesses; serve communities as government officials, teach the next generation of leaders; make scientific discoveries; produce creative contributions to the arts; and advance innovations in countless fields.

Now, as our world faces important challenges, it is your turn to lead and serve. We are certain that the skills that helped you succeed at SDSU will give you the confidence to take on the opportunities that lie ahead.

As your list of accomplishments grows, we hope you will return often to your university, to your roots, to your home. There will be new generations of students looking to learn from you, as alumni. Know that we will always welcome you back. Your continued participation in the SDSU community is one of our future student’s most valuable assets.

Today, you graduate with our respect, our pride, and with formal recognition of your achievements and your untapped potential. We are grateful for the role you have played in the life of this very special university, and celebrate you with heartfelt affection.

With warm regards,

Adela de la Torre, Ph.D.
President
Congratulations PSFA Graduates!

It is with great pleasure that I join your families, friends, and the faculty and staff of the College of Professional Studies and Fine Arts in celebrating your graduation from San Diego State University.

Your hard work and persistence have paid off, and your well-earned degrees are measures of accomplishment you will carry with you the rest of your lives.

This has never been more true than for the class of 2021. Your dedication to your studies during the historic and life-altering COVID-19 pandemic is confirmation of your commitment to academic excellence and your ability to innovate.

Receiving your diploma underscores your individual success, and also places you in the company of distinguished civic, community, military, business, arts and culture, research, and science leaders, who are proud to call SDSU their alma mater.

We know you will carry on that tradition. This is just the beginning. We can't wait to see where you go from here.

Congratulations again,

Dr. Peggy Shannon

Academic Regalia
Academic Dress

Academic dress, also known as academic regalia, originated in Medieval European universities during the 14th century, when commencement ceremonies were associated with religious ordination. In observance of tradition, all participants in commencement ceremonies wear full academic regalia, consisting of a traditional black gown, hood and mortar board.

Bachelor’s and master’s gowns are plain, although sometimes worn with honor cords or stoles. The doctoral gown is trimmed down the front and around the sleeves with bands of velvet, either in black or a color associated with the graduate’s field of study. Sleeve styles also vary with the degree: pointed sleeves on the bachelor’s gown; short sleeves for the master’s; and round, full sleeves for the doctoral robe.

The standard cap worn with academic regalia is the mortar board in black. Graduates with a bachelor’s degree wear a red and black tassel to represent SDSU school colors and graduates with a master’s degree wear an all-black tassel. Doctoral graduates wear a tam with a gold tassel.

Postgraduate candidates wear hoods that fit around the neck in front and drape down over the robe in back. The hood lining displays the university colors of red and black. In addition, colored velvet edging on the hood corresponds to the graduate’s field of study. The doctoral hood is longer than the master’s hood, and trimmed with additional velvet panels.

The Gown

The typical academic gown is black, but some institutions choose colored gowns to signify certain colleges, universities or degrees. Bachelor’s and master’s gowns are plain, although sometimes worn with honor cords or stoles. The doctoral gown is trimmed down the front and around the sleeves with bands of velvet, either in black or a color associated with the graduate’s field of study. Sleeve styles also vary with the degree: pointed sleeves on the bachelor’s gown; short sleeves for the master’s; and round, full sleeves for the doctoral robe.

The Hood

Graduates holding master’s and doctoral degrees also typically wear a hood that fits around the neck in front and drapes down over the robe in back. The hood lining displays colors associated with particular schools. Chevrons in a second color indicate a dual emphasis, while colored velvet edging on the hood corresponds to the graduate’s field of study. The doctoral hood is longer than the master’s hood, and trimmed with additional velvet panels.

The Cap

The standard cap worn with academic regalia is the mortar board in black. Graduates with a bachelor’s degree wear a red and black tassel to represent SDSU school colors and graduates with a master’s degree wear an all-black tassel. Doctoral graduates wear a tam with a gold tassel.
Ceremonial Mace

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of university scholarship and integrity since the 11th century, is carried at the head of the academic procession at commencement and other special occasions to signify the importance of the event and the values of the university.

The university's mace was designed and handcrafted for San Diego State University by Michael Rybicki, an alumnus of the Master of Fine Arts jewelry and metalsmithing program.

The mace takes the iconic image of Hepner Hall as its main inspiration. Hepner Hall stands at the historic heart of the campus, and its bell tower and arch are well-loved symbols of the university for students, alumni and the entire San Diego community. A stylized silhouette of the bell tower, made of four curved sheets of sterling silver, sits atop a silver bowl formed by the traditional skill of hand raising—a metalworking method dating back thousands of years. The sleek curves of the tower resting on the hand-hammered bowl represent the blending of SDSU's proud history with its modern and forward-facing scholarship, research and community engagement. These sculptural elements sit atop a turned and carved walnut handle.

Presidential Medallion

The medallion worn by President Adela de la Torre at commencement was designed for her installation as the ninth president of San Diego State University on April 11, 2019. It was designed and created by metalsmith graduate student Rex Arthur Ramos. The nine waves of the medallion represent the past and current nine presidents of SDSU, each bringing a new wave of leadership. The circular shape of the medallion symbolizes a globe while iconic Hepner Hall encompasses this shape, reinforcing SDSU's global influence. SDSU is depicted at the very center of this globe on an abstract map of the local region. The inclusion of the border represents a university with many different cultures, while the coastal line signifies the nature that surrounds SDSU. The contemporary look of the medallion reflects a vision of the future for SDSU guided by President de la Torre.
Ms. Nicole Armanino Clay's passion for volunteering and her dedication both to San Diego State University and the wider community reflect a lifetime of remarkable commitment to creating a better place to live, work and thrive. When it comes to any metric to measure the most engaged San Diego State alumna or perhaps even person of all time, Ms. Clay always comes out at the top.

Ms. Clay’s relationship with the university began nearly six decades ago as a freshman at what was formerly San Diego State College, where she was active in Associated Students. Ms. Clay earned a bachelor's degree in social work and a master's degree in public administration. As an alumna, she distinguished herself as a consummate volunteer and donor under four San Diego State presidents. She serves as the current chair of The Campanile Foundation after more than 20 years as an active board member. She is a past member and chair of the alumni board, with a leadership role in fundraising for the Parma Payne Goodall Alumni Center, and was an inaugural member of San Diego State's first-ever comprehensive campaign.

Ms. Clay and her husband, Ben, support Presidential Scholars, the Ben and Nikki Clay Scholarship in Public Affairs, The Campanile Foundation Endowed Chair, and athletics and veterans programs. Both are former Alumni of the Year and, in 2016, their many gifts to San Diego State were commemorated by naming a main entrance to campus “Clay Gateway.” They led the fundraising campaign for the Thomas B. and Anne K. Day Quad within the Engineering & Interdisciplinary Sciences Complex, and have supported San Diego State’s Mission Valley River Park development and a new Performing Arts District.

For 15 years, Ms. Clay was owner and president of the public affairs firm Clay Co.; she currently serves as strategic counsel. Previously, she was senior vice president for public affairs at Stoorza, Ziegas & Metzger and served in many capacities for the County of San Diego.

Her multiple contributions to civic affairs include chairing the boards for Downtown San Diego Partnership, Holiday Bowl, San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce, The Old Globe and the San Diego Convention Center. In fact, she was the first woman to serve as chair for both the Downtown San Diego Partnership and the Holiday Bowl. She was appointed to citizens’ boards by Governor Pete Wilson and San Diego mayors Dick Murphy and Susan Golding.

In recognition of her outstanding leadership, and her inspirational volunteerism and philanthropy, the Board of Trustees of the California State University and San Diego State University are proud to confer upon Nicole Armanino Clay the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.
Walter Francis Ekard served as the chief administrative officer for the County of San Diego from 1999 to 2012. During his tenure, he participated in San Diego's dramatic transformation, including the creation of a structurally-balanced budget and the implementation of a general management system.

In this role, he provided policy-based program and financial decision-making support to the board and oversaw the operation of 40 departments that provided services ranging from health and human services to criminal justice programs, land use planning, public works, parks, libraries, animal control and voter registrar services. He also managed the allocation of personnel, capital and budgetary resources within the county organization. Mr. Ekard worked to institute private business management practices, stressing customer service, fiscal accountability and teamwork. He oversaw the successful implementation of the innovative information technology outsourcing project begun in 1998, and steered San Diego County government through difficult budgetary times. Mr. Ekard’s leadership inspired a vast and diverse workforce to perform at the highest level of public service. He exemplified the highest standards of management excellence.

Mr. Ekard earned a bachelor’s degree from San Diego State University and a law degree from the University of San Diego. As a lecturer in the School of Public Affairs at San Diego State University, he taught and mentored students, providing them with contemporary theory and practice as well as assistance in securing internships in the offices of local elected officials. He also welcomed many former students to positions in San Diego County Government during his tenure as chief administrative officer.

In recognition of his exemplary public service and impact on the community, the Board of Trustees of the California State University and San Diego State University are proud to confer upon Walter Francis Ekard the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.
